

Remembrance Sunday 11th November 2018

Four pupils from Year 6 accompanied by Mrs. Gibson, Mrs Oaten and Mrs Hoare and many pupils from School and families laid a Remembrance Wreath at the Lostock Hall memorial service. In School this autumn we have studied a painting depicting a scene from World War 1 called 'The thin red line' by Harold Piffard and learnt about this period of history.

As a School we felt it was appropriate to remember those who fought and gave their lives for us and others. It was a very proud moment as our pupils showed their respects. Thank you.
